The varied and spectacular route will take us from Chania towards the south-west coast of Crete (from Elafonissos to Sougia), conditions permitting reaching down to the secluded island of Gavdos , Europe's southernmost spot.

Hiking through :
high plateaus,
jagged coasts,
the E4 European trail,
wild beaches,

the gorges of Aradena and Agia Irini
and the majestic White Mountains, meeting unique endemic flora between snowy peaks and orange blossom valleys along the way.

Before you can join the club, it is necessary to have a First Aid certificate ,

It is possible to do the training in English or French, according to participants' needs and proficiency.

A word about the trainer :

Lonaïs is a qualified nature guide, outdoor sports educator and UIMLA Mountain Leader with 20+ years experience in guiding groups on 4 continents, from equatorial Africa to the Arctic Circle. He has been living in Greece for over 10 years and speaks Greek along with French and English. He loves telling tales of Greek mythology over a wild herb tea observing Eagles from a peak in the White Mountains. He is also the co-founder of sChOoL 🦋 with Out frOntiers! 🚤 and a passionate Agile Learning facilitator.
